From its humble beginnings as an internal construction department within the Group, DAL Property has evolved into one of the top real estate and property developers in Sudan. Today the company boasts an impressive portfolio of industrial and commercial premises, Fenti - a residential golf course development, and Al Mogran - a large scale business district at the confluence of the Blue and the White Niles.

DAL Property was established in 1988 with the remit of providing architectural design, construction and facilities maintenance services to meet the Group's internal needs. DAL Group's phenomenal growth meant the department was soon pioneering the design and construction of high quality industrial premises in Sudan.

Commercial and industrial premises

These include:

- An impressive and diverse range of DAL Group offices and sites including the Group's Head Office and Excellence Centre, SUTRAC and Ailafoun's farm buildings.
- Two brand new factories: DAL Dairy - designed in conjunction with Tetra Pak, and Sudanese Liquid Air's facility for the production of industrial and medical gases.
- DAL Food Industries' bottling plant, warehouses and administration offices.
- SAYGA Flour Mills' buildings and facilities in Khartoum North and Port Sudan.
- Khartoum International Community School (KICS), a state-of-the-art learning environment.

Fenti

Fenti is a partnership to create the first exclusive property development of its kind in Khartoum, comprising a golf course and a villa complex in Soba, a residential district in the south east of Khartoum.

Al Mogran

Al Mogran is a joint venture to develop the Al Mogran area, at the confluence of the Blue and the White Niles in the heart of Khartoum, into a top end business hub and residential district.
